Overview

Trip Introduction

The Everest Panorama Trek is a short Everest trek part of the Eastern Nepal in the Himalayas designed for people who have limited time or who do not want to tackle climbing at high altitude, but want to experience the Joys of trekking in the Everest region and see Mt. Everest. Everest View Trek, Kanchenjunga Circuit Trek

The trek begins with a 35 minute flight from Kathmandu to the Tenzing-Hillary airport at Lukla (2642 m). After breakfast and handover of luggage to the porters, we trek to Phakding through farmlands and the Sherpa heritage villages where you will meet the local Sherpa people, formerly from Tibet, and observe their culture, beliefs and way of living. The second day takes you to Namche Bazaar (3440 m), the bustling business hub of the Khumbu region. the largest Sherpa village of Khumjung before returning "low" to sleep will assist in this process. Prayer flags, chortens, Mani walls and ancient monasteries testify to the importance of Buddhism in the Sherpa lives. The mountain views on this walk are spectacular. Phalu Salleri Everest Base Camp Trek, Island Peak, Ghorepani Poon Hill Trek

The fourth day's trek follows the ridges and rivers through forests of rhododendron and oak to climb to the important village of Tengboche. ntryside against the backdrop of the imposing Ama Dablam, Kangtega, Thamserku and the Everest group. The return journey of this Everest view panorama trekking via Monjo takes you to a lower altitude that allows you to sleep in greater comfort than at Namche.

The final day takes you back to Lukla. An early morning flight returns you to Kathmandu. you rest and next day you can do tour world heritage in Kathmandu Durbar squarer Squarer, Syambunath (Monkey Temple), Durbar squarer, Pasupatinath Temple and Boudanath Stupa, Baktapur Durbar squarer and Nagarkot.

Day by day itinerary

Trip Itinerary

Day 01: Arrive Kathmandu (1,300m/4,264ft)

Our Mega Mount Trekking Company Airport Representative will meet you outside the Terminal Hall. Please, look for our Treks and Expeditions play card. Transfer to hotel, introduce your trekking guide and check the necessities. Afternoon stroll Tourist colourful market Thamel down town. Overnight in Kathmandu at Hotel with breakfast

Day 02: Flight to Lukla & Trek to Phakding (2,652m/8,700ft): 3-4 hrs.

Our trek begins through a beautiful pine forest that leads us along the Dudh Koshi River through many suspension bridges, one of which is the famous Hillary Suspension Bridge. First, we catch wonderful prospect of the glistening Mt. Thamserku (6618 m). Through the settlement of Benkar, Chumoa, Monjo, we come to the check post and entrance to Sagarmatha National Park. We pass through the last village of Jorsale before reaching Namche Bazaar. The trail climbs through the forests and bridges until we reach the confluence of the Dudh Koshi and Bhote Koshi rivers. After a final steep ascent of about two hours, we get first sight of Mt. Everest peering over the Lhotse-Nuptse ridge. We stop at Chautara to admire the view. We still need to hike about 1.5 hours reach Namche Bazaar, a gateway to Mt. Everest and main trading centre of this region. Overnight in Namche.

Day 03 :Phakding – Namche Bazaar (3,440m/11,280ft): 10km, 6-7 hrs

Our trek begins through a beautiful pine forest that leads us along the Dudh Koshi River through many suspension bridges, one of which is the famous Hillary Suspension Bridge. First, we catch wonderful prospect of the glistening Mt. Thamserku (6618 m). Through the settlement of Benkar, Chumoa, Monjo, we come to the check post and entrance to Sagarmatha National Park. We still need to hike about 1.5 hours reach Namche Bazaar, a gateway to Mt. Everest and main trading centre of this region. Overnight in Namche.

Day 04: Rest day in Namche Bazaar

This is the scheduled ‘acclimatization’ day for this trek. Health experts always recommend us to stay active and moving during the rest day too instead of being idle. We either spend the day taking a day hike to Thame or visiting Khunde or relaxing and exploring Namche Bazaar itself. Namche Bazzar is the main centre of the Everest (Khumbu) region and has government offices, ATMs, Internet cafes, shops, restaurants, a bakery and a colorful market each Friday evening and Saturday. If we trek a few hundred vertical feet during the day, it will help us to properly acclimatize. Our guides takes us to the ‘Tourist Visitor Center’ near the headquarter of the Sagarmatha National Park where we can observe an assortment of things related to the first Everest ascenders, Sherpa culture and learn about the various plant and animal life of the Everest region. Overnight in Namche.

Day 05: Namche Bazar – Tengboche (3,864m/12,673 ft): 5-6 hrs.

After breakfast, our trail leads moderately flat with superb view of Mt. Everest, Nuptse, Lhotse, Ama Dablam and close up view of Thamserku, Khangtaiga. The trail continues wild lives spot of musk deer (a herd of Himalayan Thar) colorful pheasant (Danphe, National bird) Trail descend to Dudh Koshi river where few lodges and series of picturesque water driven prayer wheels. Cross suspension bridge over Dudh Koshi River a steep climb through pine and juniper forest, walk about 2 hours bring you to Tenboche. The famous Gomba (Tengboche Monastery) with the background of Ama Dablam, Nupte, Mt. Everest and many more peaks. During October/November in full moon the colorful Mani Rimdu festival is held here with masked dancing and Tibetan opera in the monastery courtyard. Overnight in Tengboche.

Day 06: Tengboche – Monjo ((2,800m/9,200ft): 5-6 hrs.

Trail drops down to Dudh Koshi River and cross the suspension cradle bridge. Trail rise up Sanasa the confluence of Everest Base Camp trek and Gokyo Lake trek. Then follow the wider trail round aside the hill to Namche Bazar. Descend down to National Park check point to lower green valley Jorsalle. Then right up next is final destination Monjo.

Overnight in Monjo.

Day 07: Monjo – Lukla (2,780m/9,175ft): 5-6 hrs.
