Overview

Trip Introduction

Mount Kanchenjunga Expedition is the third highest mountain in the world. Kanchenjunga is the third highest is Part of the Eastern Taplejung District Nepal. The date was on May 25, 1955, that two British mountaineers George Band and Joe Brown had successfully ascended up to Mt. Kanchenjunga and the third highest mountain in the world (after Mount Everest and K2), with an elevation of (8,586 meters) Kanchenjunga translated means. The Five Treasures of Snows", as it contains five peaks, four of them over 8,450 meters). The treasures represent the five repositories of God, which are gold, silver, gems, grain, and holy books. Annapurna Base Camp Trek.

Kanchenjunga is called in the local Sherpa and Limbu language, translates as 'Mountain that we offer Greetings to Kanchenjunga or Sewalungma is considered sacred in the Kirant religion. The 'Five Treasures refer to the five peaks" Kanchenjunga I (8586m), Kanchenjunga West (8505m), Kanchenjunga South (8494m), Central (8482m) and Kangbachen (7902m). Three of the five peaks that make up Kanchenjunga Himal, Kanchenjunga 1, Central (8482m) and South (8494m) are on the border, while the West (8505m) and Kangbachen (7902m) are in Nepal. Kanchenjunga is also India's highest peak and is close to the eastern border of Nepal and situated in the Kanchenjunga Conservation Area. Makalu Expedition.

The five treasures of God referred to are salt, gold, turquoise and precious stones, sacred scriptures, invincible armour or ammunition, grain, and medicine. Sherpa guides will do everything within their power to lead you safely to the summit. Our guides are government certified and experienced climbers. We take no chances with your well-being and hence have allowed several days to make up for unforeseen circumstances, such as adjusting to higher altitudes and the possibility of altitude sickness. Everest Base Camp trek.

Three of the five peaks (main, central, and south) are on the border of North Sikkim district of Sikkim, India and Taplejung District of Nepal, while the other two are completely in Taplejung District. Nepal is home to the Kanchenjunga Conservation Area Project run by the World Wildlife Fund in association with Government of Nepal. The sanctuary is home to the Red Panda and other montage animals, birds, and plants. India's side of Kanchenjunga also has a protected park area called the Kanchenjunga National Park.

Until 1852, Kanchenjunga was assumed to be the highest mountain in the world, but calculations made by the British Great Trigonometric Survey in 1849 came to the conclusion that Mount Everest was the highest and Kanchenjunga the third-highest. Kanchenjunga was first climbed on May 25, 1955, by Joe Brown and George Band, who were part of a British expedition.
